Design: ALTUS Architecture + Design
Interior Design: ALTUS Architecture + Design

This dynamic contemporary house was designed for a professional couple on a site facing downtown Minneapolis. The character of the design is intended to imply movement, capture light and celebrate the views of the city. Entering the small pavilion at grade one ascends the rotated stair with glimpses of downtown. The tall curved wall shields the second floor master suite and third floor living room from a highway to the north. This wall also bounces light into the living spaces from the south. The master and living rooms are rotated to the view of downtown.
